5.0 OBJECTIVES

At the end of this lesson, students should be able to demonstrate appropriate skills, and show an understanding of the following:

- Various Emergencies which arises in a hotel Industry.
- Procedures to handle such situation.

5.1 INTRODUCTION

In a hotel the front office department has to face so many emergencies such as lost and found, fire in the hotel, death, accidents, vandalism damage to property by resident guest drink guest and theft. The front office should be able to handle such critical cases and so they should have knowledge and skill, otherwise it causes a great loss to the hotel.

5.2 LOST AND FOUND

This is a term used in hotel 'parlance' to refer any item temporarily misplaced or lost by a guest, traced later by hotel staff. Such articles are handed over to the house keeping department, who maintains a special locker for the same. If the items belong to guest who has checked out, then a letter is sent out to the forwarding address furnished on the registration card. If no reply is received within a specified time period, the article may be given away to the staff members who found the article.

If lost guest belongings are found in public areas and the guest is still residing in the hotel, then the housekeeping keeps such articles such time when specific enquiry is made at the front office or lobby. In this case the guest should be required to give a
